WTC Health Program

Monitoring and Treatment

*On 9/11 You took care of New York,
Now take care of you!*

At the heart of the WTC Health Program are the 9/11 first responders, workers and volunteers we care for each day. Our mission is to bring these responders the highest quality medical services in a safe, confidential and professional environment and at no cost to the responder!

With over 10 years of experience, our expert care is not “care-as-usual”. It is, therefore, of no surprise that many responders consider our clinics a home away from home.

Who is Eligible?

- First Responders (for example, police officers, EMS, volunteer fire fighters)*
- Recovery, Restoration and Clean-up workers (for example, laborers, electricians, telecommunications, truck drivers, machine operators)
- Volunteers (for example, clergy, medical professionals, other disaster workers)

To find out if you are eligible, please call 1 (888) 982-4748 or visit www.cdc.gov/wtc for information.

* NYC Fire Fighters should contact FDNY to learn about their WTC Health Program benefits.

How Will the WTC Health Program Benefit Me?

There are many ways this program is unique. First and foremost, our focus is the WTC responder. It is important to us that our program provides comprehensive care for the health needs of the responders. We developed an integrative approach to deal specifically with WTC-related issues.

Plus, all of our services are FREE and CONFIDENTIAL !

Some of the medical benefits you could receive are:

- Periodic chest x-rays
- Laboratory tests
- Diagnostic procedures
- Prescription medications
- Counseling and Education

Coping with a WTC-related illness can be stressful. Long-term illness may affect you emotionally and even financially. Clinical social workers at the WTC Health Program can assist you during these stressful times. They help you learn problem-solving skills so you can better cope and they assist you in navigating the resources that are available.
